Legal Aspects in Procurement and Contract Management

April 20 - 21, 2020

 CENTER FOR CONTINUING EDUCATION

Legal Aspects in Procurement and Contract Management is a two-day course developed specifically for purchasing and supply management practitioners to familiarize you with the legal aspects affecting the purchasing function. It will enhance your skills in drafting various procurement contracts and in the administration of these contracts.

As a purchasing and supply management professional, you need to have a working knowledge of contract law and contract administration. You need to know your rights, responsibilities, and obligations to protect your companies from risks arising transactions.
