program content

Strategic Management

The world of business is changing dramatically. To cope with today's and tomorrow's challenges, technical and functional managers have to be outward-looking, proactive, and able to think strategically. The course provides training in skills to:

1. Think Conceptually and Critically: To help managers become more adept at viewing their companies from the larger perspective of the global business environment
2. Contribute to the Company's Overall Effectiveness: To train managers in using analytical tools to derive corporate strategies that they can participate in implementing
3. Link Internal Factors to the Company's Objectives: To identify priority areas for developing the company in line with strategic objectives

Portfolio Management

Beyond projects are groups of projects managed centrally because of its benefits in doing so.

Portfolio Management tackles the foundations, tools, and techniques in managing portfolios of projects to help govern and manage the implementation of the strategies of the organization.

Agile Project Management

Agile Project Management will enable you to implement agile methodologies including change, fluid organizations, setting limits, and most importantly - not to be just a manager, but a leader.
