Negotiation Skills: Deal or Deadlock

September 20 - 21, 2019

CENTER FOR CONTINUING EDUCATION

The business environment where we operate and live in consists of an endless series of transactions. It is therefore necessary to have the skills, abilities, and attitudes to convince people to buy or accept our products and services. One of the skills needed is the art and science of negotiation. But what is negotiation?

United Kingdom's University of Kent says on its website that persuading involves being able to convince others to take appropriate action while negotiating involves being able to discuss and reach a mutually satisfactory agreement. Harvard Law School, on the other hand, defines it as the process of discussion between two or more disputants, who seek to find a solution to a common problem, one that meets their needs and interests acceptably.

Negotiation Skills: Deal or Deadlock will share with you an insight on what negotiation is all about. It will also include tips, strategies, challenges and pitfalls in negotiating.

Negotiation Skills: Deal or Deadlock

objectives

After the course, you will:

1. Get a clear and basic understanding of what negotiation is: Why and when to negotiate;
2. Learn and try to master the negotiation model process and implement it effectively by developing a negotiation plan;
3. Learn to watch out for ploys and tactics of negotiators and how to counter them; and
4. Build negotiation skills through practice and develop the core skills of an effective negotiator.
